

COUNTY JOINS STATE IN DEFEATING LAW PROPOSALS

ELECTIVE FRANCHISE; WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION CHANGE PASSED

VOTERS ACCEPT TWO PROPOSALS; REJECT OTHERS

Four Proposed Changes to State Laws Are Snowed Under By Electors

Columbus, Nov. 7.—Secretary of State Brown this afternoon announced that tabulation of unofficial returns from 7,485 precincts out of 8,247 gave: Workmen's compensation proposal, yes, 529,147; no, 463,336.

Taft referendum: yes, 330,489; no, 632,134.

Albaugh referendum: yes, 216,765; no, 652,215.

Old age pension: yes, 352,416; no, 677,826.

Elective franchise: yes, 484,838; no, 394,345.

Publication notices: yes, 324,057; no, 443,240.

These figures, it was announced include complete unofficial returns from 61 counties and partial returns from the remaining 27 counties.

Returns indicate that the workmen's compensation proposal and the proposed amendment to the state constitution, erasing the words: "white male" from the section defining qualifications of voters are the only ones of the proposed constitutional amendments and three legislative proposals winning out in Tuesday's statewide election.

The state issues, comprising three legislative proposals and three constitutional amendments submitted after ratification by the legislature, aroused some interest all over the state while local fights in some cases of exceptional bitterness, brought out many votes in these communities.

The Taft taxation bill, providing for a reclassification of taxation laws and the rearranging of levy limits, probably attracted greatest interest among legislative proposals.

The measure, which was brought to a referendum through the efforts of the Ohio Association of Real Estate Boards, would increase the levy limits in cities from 14 to 17 mills and reduced those for rural communities from 15 to 14 mills.

It also provides for the creation of a county budget commission composed of the county auditor, treasurer and prosecutor. Both Representative Robert A. Taft of Cincinnati the author of the measure and the various real estate boards carried on campaigns for and against the measure.

Republican officers of the last legislature favored the bill, while the Democratic state organization announced itself strongly against its ratification.

Governor Donahay vetoed the bill and the Legislature repassed it.

The Albaugh measure, a companion bill to the Taft measure, would abolish the system of electing township assessors, make the county unit of assessment and create a county board of assessors, composed of elective county officials. Like the Taft bill the Albaugh measure, was passed over the gubernatorial veto.

The third measure, that providing for old age pensions, was initiated, the general assembly never having passed on it.

The State Federation of Labor and the Fraternal Order of Eagles were instrumental in having the measure submitted to the voters.

The measure would provide for a system of pensions for citizens past 65 years of age who have a limited income and only a small amount of property.

Of the constitutional amendments, that eliminating employers' "open liability" in connection with workmen's compensation, probably was the most important. It would permit the Legislature to enact a law that would practically abolish possibility of employers, who are contributors to the compensation fund, being sued for damages by an injured employee because of violation of any lawful safety, device law or order.

The amendment was submitted by the Legislature as an agreed proposition between organized capital and labor.

Another amendment would strike the words "white male" from the present constitution.

These words barred women and Negroes from voting until the federal amendments enfranchising them were ratified and became effective. They are "dead wood" in the present Ohio constitution.

The other amendment would give secretary of state authority to publish official arguments or constitutional amendments and referred or initiated laws. Under the present constitution these arguments are mailed to voters at a large expense.

The proposed amendment is expected to reduce costs of such an election approximately $50,000.

MELLON MAY ACT IN REPARATIONS

President Coolidge is said to be seriously considering appointing Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon as the American representative on the Allied Board that is to determine Germany's ability to pay reparations, providing French restrictions do not make American participation impossible. Secretary Mellon, a Pittsburgh millionaire, is one of the leading financial experts of the world.

TUESDAY ELECTION CONSIDERED TO BE EVEN PARTY BREAK

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Impartial observers inclined to the belief that Tuesday's election was about a stand-off from a partisan standpoint, and that the results proved little if anything concerning the temper of the electorate in relation to the approaching presidential campaign. Local issues for the most part overshadowed national issues everywhere and turned the tide of election.

The new Senate will now be composed of 51 Republicans, 43 Democrats and 2 farmer-labor candidates. This allows a Republican majority over the Democrats of 8, and a majority over all of only six votes.

When it is considered that in the slim Republican majority of six is to be found such Independents as Brookhart, of Iowa; Howell of Nebraska; Frazier, of North Dakota; Borah, of Idaho, LaFollette of Wisconsin; Norris of Nebraska and Ladd of North Dakota, it will be seen that the Republicans will control the next senate in name only, and only to the extent they can keep the above named Independents in line.

The new House will consist of 224 Republicans, 208 Democrats, 1 farmer-labor, 1 Independent and 1 socialist—a Republican majority over all of but 13 votes.

All things considered, Tuesday's elections did not provide any political upsets. The nearest approach to one, occurred in the 24th district of New York which returned a Republican congressman, Benjamin L. Fairchild in place of James V. Canly, Democrat, who was elected a year ago, but died in the interim before he was seated. However, this district is generally considered close.

DEMOCRAT ELECTED WILMINGTON MAYOR

For the second time in the history of Wilmington, that Republican bound municipality elected a Democratic Mayor at the regular election held Tuesday.

H. D. Pennington, Democrat and Wilmington business man, won the office by a majority of 66 votes over R. L. Compton, the Republican nominee.

Wilmington is overwhelmingly Republican, but friends of the Democratic nominee from both parties rallied to his support at the polls. The election was quiet. Other than the mayoralty race, there were no surprises.

RAIL UNION HEADS TO MEET

Cleveland, Nov. 7.—A meeting of the chief executives of the 16 standard railroad labor organizations "for the purpose of agreeing upon a definite legislative policy in connection with matters to come before the next congress" has been called by Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, to meet in Washington Nov. 14, Mr. Stone announced.

MAN CONFESSES HE SLEW CHILD WITH A HAMMER

Says He Committed Crime Because Girl Would Not Say She Loved Him.

Akron, O. Nov. 7.—"She wouldn't say whether she loved me and so I killed her with the hammer."

In these words, Alexander Kuskick 19, is said to have confessed today that he slew 12-year-old Elizabeth Nagy, whose parents both work during the day. Kuskick boarded at the Nagy home and told police he had been in love with the child for several months. He went to work at the Goodrich plant as usual Tuesday morning, but returned about 8 o'clock, knowing he said, that the parents would be absent at work. He first obtained a hammer which he left in his own room. Then he visited the room of the child who was still in bed.

"I awakened her," he said, "and asked her if she loved me. She did not answer and I went back to my room and got the hammer. I asked her again. When she sat there and stared at me, I hit her on the head four or five times."

Later he tried to bandage her wounds and when the coroner visited the home he found the little girl, her head swathed in dirty rags, dead. Kuskick sat for several hours beside the body before he finally decided to notify the police.

EYES OF OKLAHOMA ARE TURNED TOWARD THE FEDERAL COURT

Oklahoma City, Nov. 7.—Eyes of Oklahoma were turned upon the Federal Court at Lawton before which to be heard an application for injunction to restrain the House of Representatives, the Ku Klux Klan and others from prosecuting the impeachment case against Governor J. C. Walton. Walton's sudden flank attack was a complete surprise to state officials who are directing his prosecution but after a number of conferences which lasted well beyond midnight, it was announced that an "effective reply" had been prepared for presentation to the court in answer to the governor's move.

Speaker W. D. McBee, of the House was named one of the defendants. He expressed confidence that the trial of Governor Walton would proceed on schedule. He did not anticipate any interference from the federal court.

CLARK COUNTY PUTS APPROVAL ON BOND ISSUE FOR HOSPITAL

Greene County will soon be relieved of its quarter interest in the District Tuberculosis Hospital at Springfield.

Balloting Tuesday on a $350,000 bond issue to purchase the hospital from the other three counties and operate it as a county sanatorium, Clark County voters passed the issue by a majority of 3,500.

The hospital is now jointly owned by Clark, Champaign, Madison and Greene Counties, and the $350,000 issue will finance the purchase by Clark County of the interests of Greene, Champaign and Madison Counties.

RECOVERING FROM INJURY TO ARM ALLEGED TELEPHONE "SPY" IN NEW YORK

Woonsocket, R. I. Nov. 7.—Richard Dieters, alleged telephone "spy" at the exclusive Crescent Athletic Club, Brooklyn, N. Y., who was found near here, after being missing four days, returned voluntarily today to New York with Police Detective Richard Powers of that city.

Threats against his life and threats by detectives to "railroad" him to jail, unless he produced letters from a prominent Philadelphia woman to E. M. Joffe, a clubman, drove him to "plant" his "hat on Manhattan bridge and flee, Dieters said.

WHITNEY WARREN, JR., MAY WED ACTRESS

Jeannette Eagels and Whitney Warren, Jr.

Whitney Warren, Jr., son of Whitney Warren, of New York City, one of the world's leading architects, is reported engaged to Miss Jeannette Eagels, beautiful leading actress in "Rain." Warren, who is a member of the most exclusive clubs in New York, numbers among his cousins Lady Queensborough, the Countess Guy de Lasteyrie, Robert W. Goetz and George Henry Warren, Jr. Through his mother he is a member of the famous Whitney family. About a year ago young Warren entered the offices of Sam H. Harris, who produced "Rain," and it was there the romance began. Young Whitney quit a fashionable preparatory school in 1914 to enlist in the French Army, where he won the Croix de Guerre and Medaille Militaire, France's highest decorations, for valor. He was once engaged to Miss Geraldine Miller Graham, New York society girl, whom the Prince of Wales hailed as "the most beautiful girl in America," but the engagement was broken by mutual consent.

HUNGRY MOBS CONTINUE RIOTING IN GERMANY

Berlin, Nov. 7.—Hungry mobs again rioted in Berlin today. Many stores were looted. No casualties were reported up to this afternoon. Despite the police appeal, the public failed to support the authorities against the rioters.

One person was killed and several seriously wounded in bread riots in the heart of the Saxonian old fields. The police fired upon the rioters. The Dresden government has submitted its controversy with the reichswehr to the supreme court at Leipzig.

The situation in Berlin is intense. More than 600 persons have been arrested in the past 24 hours charged with plundering.

Premier Froelich, of Thuringia, who is in Berlin, is protesting to the federal government against allied discrimination by the reichswehr. He urged President Ebert

REPUBLICANS HOLD VERMONT; COOLIDGE COUSIN DEFEATED

Montpelier, Vt., Nov. 7.—President Coolidge's native state remains rock-ribbed Republican and the president's cousin, a Democrat, will continue to sell groceries at his general store in Cavendish.

Porter H. Dale of Island Pond, as staunch a Republican as ever lived among the Green mountains, was elected United States senator to succeed the late William P. Dillingham, Republican. Dale by a vote of two to one defeated Park H. Pollard, Democrat, of Cavendish, a cousin of President Coolidge.

The wets and the dries saw some significance in the election of ex-Congressman Dale to the senate. Dale had stood on a dry platform. Pollard advocated liberalizing the eighteenth amendment. So the dries claimed they had it. A third candidate for senator, Marshall J. Hapgood, the "Sage of Peru," and the largest landowner in southern Vermont, polled a few votes here and there.

The contest in the Second congressional district for the seat in the house of representatives formerly held by Mr. Dale, developed into a landslide for Colonel Ernest W. Gibson of Brattleboro, Rep.

and Chancellor Stresemann to visit the "Bavarian front" to get a personal view of the activities of the "Bavarian Irregulars."

Advices from the Rhineland said that the separatists had seized money presses and were printing their own city currency. The allied district commissioner in the zone, where the secessionists were turning out money, forced the reichsbank to accept it as legitimate.

Paris, Nov. 7.—Acting under urgent instructions from the council of ambassadors, Premier Poincare telegraphed an ultimatum to Berlin, demanding that Germany answer before the end of the week whether Germany is willing to permit interallied military control to be resumed. There was no mention of "sanctions" in the ultimatum, but it is understood that France is prepared to take the sternest measures.

The papers here have suddenly dropped their long discussion of the Hughes proposals, under orders to play up the terrible conditions in Germany. It is learned in high quarters that both the Quai d'Orsay and Downing street are seriously alarmed at the state of affairs in Germany.

Private information coming in uncensored over diplomatic wires indicates a state of desperation in the reich approaching a situation near to defiance of the allies.

SAY CURE FOUND FOR TUBERCULOSIS

Paris, Nov. 7.—The peculiar odor of the male goat has an important therapeutic value, according to Dr. George Louvel, in the Medical Review. Dr. Louvel states that this is particularly true in the treatment of tuberculosis and diseases of the lungs and bronchial tubes.

"The goat, supposedly charged with the sins of Israel," says Dr. Louvel, "is nothing more nor less than an agent for disinfection created by the Almighty. Put the goat in a stable where cows and other animals are dying and the epidemic soon disappears, and the sick animals recover. I hope to found a sanatorium where the putrid smells of the goat will be the sole agent used as a cure for lung diseases."

Dr. Louvel points out that the goat is the only animal absolutely immune from tuberculosis. The article asserts that several cases of bronchial pneumonia have been cured by introducing goats into the sick chamber and letting them sleep in the same bed with the patient.

DISCUSS RAILROAD PROBLEM

Washington, Nov. 7.—Senator Albert B. Cummins of Iowa went to the white house at President Coolidge's request to discuss the railroad problem and the question of remedial legislation at the coming session of congress. On leaving the president's office, Senator Cummins declared his talk with the president will not result in any change in his intention to introduce his bill for compulsory consolidation of the hundreds of existing lines into a small number of competitive regional systems shortly after congress is convened in December.

SPARKS AND MCPHERSON ON COMMISSION; LESOURD, WAGNER, AND CLARK WIN

Proposed Amendment to City Charter Passes By Large Majority—Rife and Bales Leading Candidates in County Board of Education Race.

Greene County turned down the Taft and Albaugh tax laws and the proposed old age pension law, defeated the three proposed amendments to the state constitution, and staged interesting contests for board of education candidates in the election held Tuesday.

Xenia City cast a similar vote against the six state measures, elected Harry Sparks and Dr. C. G. McPherson, city commissioners for long terms and chose Harry S. LeSourd, L. A. Wagner and Louis Clark to serve on the Xenia City Board of Education. Returns show that R. O. Copey defeated J. E. Jones, incumbent, for justice of the peace in Xenia Township and J. H. McPherson won over George McKee by a comfortable margin for township trustee.

Xenia City also passed by a large majority a proposed amendment to the city charter which will eliminate primary elections of commission candidates when there are not more than twice the number of candidates as there are places to be filled on the commission. S. M. McKay, running without opposition for short term on the City Commission, was given a large complimentary vote.

Because of a fight over Board of Education candidates, interest in the city and county centered in this election. H. S. LeSourd, incumbent, lead the city board ticket with a vote of 1886 while L. A. Wagner and Louis F. Clark finished within the required three, the former with a vote of 1709 and the latter with a vote of 1679.

Ed. S. Davidson, polled a vote of 1641. Mrs. Amanda C. Evans, colored candidate, polled 1473 votes. J. W. Santmyer, president of the board finished sixth with 1248 and J. D. Adair, independent candidate finished with a vote of 1161.

For City Commission, Harry Sparks led the ticket with a vote of 1897, with Dr. McPherson, incumbent, second with 1798. Harry Fisher, present commissioner was outside with 1267 votes and McKay polled a large complimentary vote. The charter amendment passed by a large majority.

J. B. Rife, Clifton, candidate for re-election on the County Board of Education, led the ticket with a vote of 2171, with H. E. Bales, Paintersville, second with 2162. S. H. Shawhan, Beaver Creek Twp., incumbent, third with 2099 and Charles G. Hatch, Jamestown, trailing with 1528. The contest was close and undecided until the last precincts were in.

The Greene County vote on the state measures was as follows: Taft Law, For—1,844; Against—5,055; Albaugh Law, For—1,080; Against, 5,219; Old Age Pension Law, For—2,363; Against—5,470; Workmen's Compensation amendment, For—3,259; Against, 3,745; Amendment to eliminate the words "white male," For—2,922; Against—3,035; Publication amendment, For—1,699; Against—3,264.

J. E. Jones, Xenia Township justice of the peace, was defeated by R. O. Copey for re-election to that office, by a vote of 2,108 to 1,819. Mrs. Winnifred B. Mason was re-elected constable in Xenia township and Edward Wilkin was also elected constable. Although there are two constable positions open in the township, only one constable has been used for some time until township trustees decided to use two. They are paid by fees.

There was no contest on for township trustees, J. W. Hedges, Graham Bryson and Ward Grant, being re-elected to those positions. J. H. McPherson, township treasurer, whose position was eliminated by the Legislature defeated George McKee, present clerk for that office by a comfortable majority.

A good vote was polled during the day in all precincts, interest in local issues principally bringing out the voters.

MRS. D. A. BEEKMAN DIES ON TUESDAY

Mrs. Dellah Ann Beekman, 75, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mina Shingle, on the Andrew brothers farm, on the Wilmington pike, two miles from Cedarville, Tuesday night at 9:30 o'clock, from a complication of diseases.

She is survived by three daughters Mrs. Shingle, with whom she resided, Mrs. Retta Massie, of Lapham, Ohio; and Mrs. Rose Finley, of Columbus.

Funeral services will be held from the late home, Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock, with interment at Grape Grove.

WALTON APPEALS COURTS

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 7.—Governor J. C. Walton has appealed to the federal courts in an effort to invoke government intervention in the situation here. On the outcome of the action is expected to depend the question of whether the impeachment proceedings against the executive will be disposed of in the near future, or whether they will await a final decision by the United States supreme court.

TRUCK DRIVER KILLED

Before the masks were removed a "mock wedding" caused much merriment, in which the "bride" proved to be Mrs. George Morgan, and the bridegroom, Mrs. Frank Lord, while Mrs. William McKinney, cleverly carried the part of the officiating clergyman. THE DOOR of opportunity flings wide its portals only to the man who is up and doing—who is filled with pep and punch—with rich, red blood tingling through his veins. Mountain size obstacles dwindle to ant hills and ambitions become accomplishments to these sort of men.

COURT NEWS

SUES FOR ALIMONY.

Grace Atley asks for alimony and injunction in a suit filed in Common Pleas Court against Vernon Atley, whom she married June 14, 1921, and his father, C. A. Atley.

The plaintiff declares the defendant, Vernon Atley, left here September 17, 1923, without money or other resources, and went away without telling her where he was going. She declares that through their joint efforts on a farm in Caesar Creek Township, there is now considerable stock and crops on which C. A. Atley claims an interest, and will, unless restrained, claim the property and sell it. The plaintiff wants this property assigned to her as alimony and asks that C. A. Atley be restrained from removing it until final determination of the suit. F. L. Johnson is attorney for the plaintiff.

A REMARKABLE MAN, AUTHOR OF A REMARKABLE WORK.

One hundred years ago there was born in Boston a man who became, as we believe, the greatest of American historians and one of the five or six great historical writers of the world. No American who has not read the eight volumes in which Francis Parkman told the story of the struggle of France and England in the New World has any true notion of the dimensions or of the significance of the struggle, out of which issued two great nations—Canada and the United States; nor has he any idea of the vigor and charm that a great historian can impart to an historical narrative. Romance is implicit in the wars of the French and English pioneers with each other and with the Indians; but it is romance that many a dry-as-dust historian successfully keeps from his pages. Parkman's distinction is that he produced a work both scholarly and delightful. Everything is carefully documented, as a result of painful and thorough research. The thing is so accurate and so complete that it left little for succeeding scholars to do; yet the books are as fascinating and as full of movement and color as a novel. Parkman's achievement is a remarkable triumph of the intellect and the imagination united—a work of genius.

It was a triumph too over obstacles and discouragements that would have broken the spirit of almost any other man. Delicate in health from his birth he had hardly begun the task that he had set himself when his nerves and eyes gave out together. For years he was virtually blind and could open his eyes only in a darkened room. But he had books and documents read aloud to him and he invented a contrivance that enabled him to write and make notes legibly with his eyes closed. Nevertheless, most of his material he had to carry in his memory, because he could not consult the notes that he had made. Much of the time he was so frail nervously that he could work for only a half hour a day. For a long time composition proceeded at the rate of six lines in every twenty-four hours.

But he never faltered. Every minute that he could use eye or brain he used them. When he was strong enough to travel he visited the places where he could consult the original documents that he needed in his work; when he was not he had them copied and sent to him. The labor of collecting, examining and digesting the mass of manuscript material in French as well as English would have been heavy for a strong, well man; for such a harassed invalid as Parkman it was appalling. His great work was literally the labor of a lifetime, for he began the Conspiracy of Pontiac when he was twenty-five and did not publish A Half-Century of Conflict until he was almost seventy.

A remarkable man and a remarkable life! In strength of will, tenacity, moral courage, Francis Parkman was the peer of any of the wilderness heroes of whom he wrote and the superior of most of them. It was only physical strength that he lacked, and his example shows how unessential physical strength is to great achievement when the spirit is equal to the task.

"WOODMAN SPARE THAT TREE."

People travel across the stormy Atlantic and spend no end of money on European tours. Why? Largely because the European cities are reputed to have a certain romantic and imaginary "charm."

Yet this so-called charm often lies in some very simple feature that can be developed anywhere. Many American cities and towns have such features now. A recent writer in the American City, for instance, thinks the charm of Paris lies largely in the beautiful trees with which that famous city is profusely planted, and which are preserved with the greatest care even in the business district.

Many American cities, big or little, can in due time secure just that feature of charm and attractiveness, by studying tree culture for its streets. If its people have been negligent in this respect, they can plant quick growing varieties that will transform the town in a few years.

Frequently the hustling American folks will take down a tree merely because it blocks the sidewalk a little or for trifling reasons. The belated interest in the preservation of trees leads to the hope that in the future they will receive greater consideration than in the past.

It does not have to cross the wide seas to find charm. We find it here at home, and we should cherish and protect this gift of nature as our most valuable asset.

TROUBLE

What do you know of trouble? he said.

"I know it," said he; "I know it's ugly looking ahead. I know it's a far worse thing than I ever 'twill really be."

Have you ever lost, when you tried to gain? he said.

"I have," said he; "I have cherished a dream in my life, and I have suffered an hour of pain for it."

"What do you know of trouble?" he said.

"This I have learned," said he; "trouble is when looking ahead, it is multiplied three times, and it is multiplied three times through the eyes of a man."

There is no dish that can quite equal an oyster dish, in giving a touch of deliciousness to a meal. In cold weather, an oyster dish in a guest meal becomes almost indispensable. Try the following recipes:

Oyster Cocktails: Mix together one tablespoon of tomato catsup, two drops of Tabasco Sauce, one-half teaspoon of Worcestershire Sauce, one-half teaspoon of either vinegar or lemon juice, a pinch of salt and one teaspoon of celery finely minced. Chill this sauce well before putting it into the cocktail glasses with the small, raw oysters (about eight oysters should be used with the amount of sauce which this recipe makes).

Pigs in Blankets: Roll each raw, unshelled oyster in a thin piece of bacon, securing the bacon around it with a toothpick. Fry these little rolls in a hot pan till the bacon is brown and crisp, then serve at once. (This makes a fine supper or luncheon dish.)

Scalloped Oysters: Mix together one cup of cracker crumbs and one-half cup of stale bread crumbs, then stir into this mixture one-half cup of melted butter. Put a thin layer of this mixture in the bottom of a shallow baking dish, cover it with a layer of raw, unshelled oysters and sprinkle with salt and pepper; add one tablespoon of milk and two tablespoons of the oyster liquor, then proceed to repeat the process.

—putting in first the crumbs, then the oysters, the seasonings, and, finally, another tablespoon of sweet milk and two more tablespoons of oyster liquor. (Do not have more than these two layers in the dish; for if three layers of oysters are used, the middle layer is likely to be underdone when the other two are cooked.) Cover all with more buttered crumbs and slip the dish into a hot oven to bake for 30 minutes. A sprinkling of nutmeg or mace between the layers may be used if desired. This dish should be served very hot.

THOMPSON SELECTED

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made.

Here's an easy way to save $2, and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? Thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will soon earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments. To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Today's Talk

ON STANDING BY

We never know when it is most necessary for us to be around. But we do know that if we plant deep within us the seeds of necessity, we shall not disappoint when we find ourselves standing by when we are needed.

I have seen a crowd of people standing by a man who has been injured, not a one knowing what to do, or dumfounded for the moment. And I have seen a man deserted in his direst need by those who were seemingly most fond of him in his prosperity and success.

What does it mean to stand by, anyway?

Well, in the first place, it means trust. You can't stand by anyone you don't trust. And then it means that you believe in that one's capacity for genuineness, though he may have a thousand faults and failings.

Many times this standing by presents a great spectacle. For it emphasizes thoroughbredness to the full.

He who stands by his friend cannot present reservations. He stands by—and that settles the matter.

He who professes most, often practices least. So that we find him whom we least suspected as our friend standing by, while in the distance fades the figure of him whom we thought most loyal to us.

Standing by is no cultivated art. It's a fact of character.

Your friend can't make you believe that he is your friend. You know it—and you alone.

"UNCLE SAM'S" EYES.

Airplanes are the EYES of the army. Uncle Sam certainly takes good care of his eyes. When Uncle Sam loses an eye—he can build himself another. But, when you lose an eye—GOOD NIGHT! Your total allotment of eyes are two. If there is a weak spot anywhere in either of your eyes, let's find it—EARLY ENOUGH.

WEIRD WAYS of NATURE

A MASSIVE NATURAL BRIDGE CARVED THROUGH SANDSTONE BY A SMALL STREAM NEAR MANUELITO, NEW MEXICO

Many Curious Objects Are Found In the Natural Sculptures of the Southwest—Pulpit Rock and Navajo Church—A Disappearing River

By NORMAN C. McLOUD

WHEN nature goes in for freaks the results are sometimes more fantastic than the weird imagining of the futurist or cubist painter.

The great southwestern section of the United States is rich in curious formations. In the carving of which nature's forces showed themselves master artists. To the tourist along the famous old Santa Fe Trail these strange sculptures in earth and stone bring a constant and fascinating series of scenic delights.

The sculptor who would undertake to create such a work as Pulpit Rock, for instance, would be told that he belonged in the comic strip department of art. The rock may be said to resemble anything from a huge pulpit to a massive oyster shell balanced on a stone pedestal. Located just south of Carneiro, Kansas, the formation is an object of interest to those who travel the Santa Fe Trail.

Nature As A Sculptor

To the tourist the rock is merely a freak of nature. To the geologist, however, it tells a story of natural forces at their work of carving out a continent. These men of science can see that ages ago the formation was a part of a solid mass of rock, the upper part of which was harder than the lower part. During the process of erosion by the elements, the harder upper portion resisted by the wearing action of water more stubbornly than did the underlying bed of softer stone which now forms the pedestal. The result was the top-heavy effect shown in the illustration.

Hills built by the wind are a feature of the landscape along the Arkansas River. These hills are composed of sand which has been blown from the river bed by the prevailing northwest winds. The sand is formed into dunes and ridges, separated by irregular valleys, and the elevations range as high as 60 feet. Where no vegetation has taken root on the hills the barren sand continues to be blown farther from the river with every strong wind, while new supplies are added from the river bed. This process may be readily seen on a windy day.

A Prehistoric Wall

Curious looking walls appear in the Spanish Peaks, near Thatcher, Colorado. These walls extend for miles in every direction from the foot of the two mountains, and have an appearance of having been built by human forces as a means of protection. The explanation of these curiosities, however, dates back to the time when the rocks were a molten mass. By natural upheaval this liquid material was intruded into the sandstone and shale at the foot of the Rockies. The force which placed it there also drove some of the material to the surface

LOGS WHICH HAVE TURNED TO STONE PETRIFIED FOREST, ARIZ

RIVER DISAPPEARING INTO BOTTOMLESS PIT NEAR FLAGSTAFF, ARIZ

through cracks. When the protruding portions hardened they were so much firmer and tougher than the sandstone and shale that they have resisted the wearing-down process of the elements and stand out as distinct narrow walls. These walls are called dikes because of their resemblance to walls built for the reinforcement of the banks of a stream.

Our Oldest Settlement

Near Laguna, New Mexico, is the village of Acoma, one of the most remarkable Indian Pueblos in the Southwest, notable as the oldest continuously inhabited settlement in the United States. This village is built on top of a high, isolated mesa, or table-land, with precipitous walls of gray sandstone, and has been an object of great interest to travelers from the days of Coronado. Unlike most Pueblos Acoma is recorded in early chronicles as the home of a people feared as robbers and warriors. Its location, 350 feet above the surrounding country, and its sole approach through a narrow cliff in the rock, rendered it almost impregnable to enemies. The entrance and stairway now in use are the same as were described by Coronado's expedition in 1540, nearly 400 years ago. The inhabitants are expert makers of pottery.

One of the most amazing of Nature's sculptures is the Navajo Church, northwest of Wingate, New Mexico. This pinnacle, with its sharp spires of white sandstone, something like 300 feet in height, rises conspicuously above the rocky slopes at the top of a foundation of red sandstone. It is a striking object, fashioned by the erosive force of rain and frost, aided and abetted by wind-blown sand. The severe winds have carried the sand of the valley against the rocks with such vigor as to cause the sharp particles of grit to play an important share in the gradual carving of this monumental structure.

Great Natural Bridge

A region of caves, pinnacles and other curious formations exists in the vicinity of Lupton, Arizona. All of these are the creation of erosion by water in soft rock, with the wind-borne sand assisting. Notable among these is the massive natural bridge, carved from sandstone, near Manuelito, Ariz. This bridge is in the form of a perfect arch and shows the sculpture wrought by a small stream. The carving started when the stream began to trickle through a crack in the stone. With the continued flow of the water the crack kept growing in size until the great bridge was developed as shown in one of the photographs.

A petrified forest is one of Nature's most interesting freaks. In the region south of Adamana, Ariz., there are four such forests, included in a Government reservation known as Petrified Forest National Monument. Geologists have determined that the petrified logs are the remains of trees which grew several million years ago.

Upon falling, the trees became buried in sand and clay, finally to a depth of several hundred feet. In later ages they appeared at the surface by the erosion of the covering soil. In their underground bed the wood became changed into stone through the gradual absorption of silica, deposited by underground water. Iron oxides were also absorbed in small quantities, giving the beautiful brown, yellow and red tints which appear in much of the petrified wood. The woody material was entirely replaced by stone through the process of deposit and absorption. Under the microscope thin slices of the petrified material show perfectly the original wood structure, with all the cells distinct.

Some of the logs lie in line, very nearly in the positions into which the trees fell. Others have been moved by the washing away of the soil, and are irregularly placed. Some of the trunks are more than 100 feet in length and six feet in diameter. One of them forms a natural bridge over a small ravine, the water having first washed away the overlying clay and sand, and then, following a crevice, worked out the channel underneath. This log is 236 feet long.

A River That Disappears

A disappearing river is one of the remarkable freaks of nature in the neighborhood of Flagstaff, Ariz. The stream drops over a ledge in the form of a picturesque waterfall, and at the foot it passes away from view into an underground cavern. The place at which the river disappears is a series of sink holes known as the Bottomless Pits. They form the entrance to a hidden passage below the surface, made by the action of water in dissolving the limestone. The underground passage carries the river to an outlet in Walnut Canyon, a few miles south.

In New Mexico and Arizona is the land of the Navajo Indians, now peaceful blanket makers, herders and farmers, but for many generations one of America's savage tribes. Their reservation is larger than Massachusetts and New Jersey combined. It is believed that the Navajo blanket was introduced to these Indians by the women of the old Pueblos. The Navajo women are expert weavers and their blankets bring them an income which has been estimated at $500,000 a year. The size of the tribe is increasing, having grown from 8,000 in 1889, to about 20,000 at the present time.

ON ROAD TO BONEYARD

"I have just finished a treatment of your wonderful remedy and can say it has done wonders for me already. For the past five years I have been unable to eat any but the lightest food and that but sparingly, as any food caused me to bloat with gas. I was reduced to a skeleton of ninety pounds, and was on the road to the boneyard. A friend in Birmingham sent me a bottle of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which I took, and I am sure it will entirely cure me of my trouble, judging from what it brought from me and the way I feel." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation, which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Sayre & Hemphill, and druggists everywhere. adv

COOLIDGE ISSUES THANKSGIVING DAY MESSAGE TUESDAY

Washington, Nov. 6—President Coolidge today issued a proclamation setting aside Thursday November 29, as Thanksgiving Day.

"The year has brought to our people two tragic experiences which have deeply affected them," the president said in his proclamation. "One was the death of our beloved president (Harding) which has been mourned wherever there was a realization of the thought of high ideals, noble purpose and unselfish service carried even to the end of supreme sacrifice. His loss recalled the nation to a less capricious and more charitable attitude. It sobered the whole thought of the country."

"A little later came the unparalleled disaster to the friendly people of Japan. This called forth from the people of the U. S. a demonstration of deep and humane feeling. It was wrought into the substance of good works. It created new evidences of our international friendships which is a guarantee of world peace. It replenished the charitable impulse of the country."

"By experiences such as these, men and nations are tested and refined. We have been blessed with much of material prosperity. We shall be better able to appreciate it if we remain the privations others have suffered and we shall be the more worthy of it if we use it for their relief. We will do well then to render thanks for the good that has come to us, and show by our actions that we have become stronger, wiser and truer by the chastenings which have been imposed upon us. We will thus prepare ourselves for the part we must take in a world which forever needs the full measure of service. We have been a most favored people. We ought to be a most generous people. We have been a most blessed people. We ought to be a most thankful people."

A TALK WITH AN XENIA MAN

Mr. E. L. Richards, Prop of Barber Shop of 514 W. Second St., Tells His Experience.

There is nothing like a talk with one of our own citizens for giving hope and encouragement to the anxious sufferer from the dread kidney disease. We, therefore, give here an interview with an Xenia man.

"My back was sore and ached constantly," says Mr. Richards. "Mornings my back and shoulders were so lame and stiff I could hardly move out of bed. My back was weak and it was hard for me to stand any length of time. When I stooped I got sharp pains through my back. My kidneys acted irregularly. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me of the pains in my back and my kidneys became normal."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Richards had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

WILL GIVE SERIES OF LECTURES HERE

Dr. Edward Berger, prominent lecturer, will give a series of lectures, beginning next Sunday evening, at the First M. E. Church. Following next week's meeting, he will appear at the First Presbyterian Church, for a week.

Dr. Berger is being brought to Xenia for the series of free lectures by the Xenia Ministerial Association. His talks will be concerning faith, health, and psychology. He will appear before both afternoon and evening audiences, beginning at three o'clock in the afternoon, and eight o'clock in the evening. Dr. Berger will preach at Trinity M. E. Church, next Sunday morning.

POPPIES WILL BE SOLD BY LEGION

two booths to be erected at the athletic field, in one of which the poppies will be sold. Dr. B. R. McClellan, commander of Foody Post, is urging liberal contributions in purchasing the poppies as the money derived will be used for welfare work in national military homes.

The Auxiliary will sell sandwiches and coffee in the other booth to be operated by members. It is expected that 1,500 poppies will be ready for sale Saturday.

The Auxiliary is urging members to come to the Legion hall every afternoon and night before Saturday to assist in making poppies.

HELP KIDNEYS BY DRINKING MORE WATER

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and Help Neutralize Irritating Acids.

Kidney and bladder irritation often result from acidity, says a noted authority. The kidneys help filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread; the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it. Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Begin drinking lots of soft water, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast. Continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by acid irritation. Jad Salts causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which may quickly relieve your bladder irritation. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice

ELECTION RESULTS AT A GLANCE

DEMOCRATS SWEEP NEW YORK CITY; G. O. P. LEADS STATE

New York, Nov. 7.—Republicans and Democrats divided the honors in the election in New York state. Returns show that the Republicans will control the next state assembly with a gain of six seats. The present representation is 81 Republicans and 69 Democrats. The Republicans also gained one in their representation in congress by the election of Benjamin E. Fairchild in the Twenty-fourth district. He will succeed James V. Ganly, Democrat, who was recently killed in an automobile accident. In Greater New York the Democrats elected 10 judges by pluralities approximating 140,000. In the thirty-second congressional district former Speaker Thaddeus C. Sweet, Republican, won. The congressional seat left vacant by Bourke Cockran will be taken by J. J. O'Connor, Democrat. Anning S. Prall, Democrat, defeated Guy O. Palmer, Republican, in the Eleventh congressional district.

Thomas Re-elected.
Columbus, Nov. 7.—Mayor James J. Thomas was re-elected over three opponents. He has a decisive majority in first-choice votes. Thomas' vote was more than double that of his nearest opponent, Randolph W. Walton. Wyatt Millikin and John T. Adams received only a scattered handful of ballots. The Republicans captured other city offices, but were not so fortunate in the council race, where Olga Anna Jones and John M. Lewis, backed jointly by the Democratic organization and the Columbus Home Rule association, were successful. The home rulers will control the council. The city voted to adopt eastern time all year.

Cleveland Elects Council.
Cleveland, Nov. 7.—Some 120,000 Cleveland citizens voted at the first "proportional representation" councilmanic election. From this council of 25 members will be chosen one to act as mayor, who will also preside at the meetings of council. A city manager, in whom will vest practically all real power, will be chosen outside the councilmanic body. The official count, which will determine the greater part of the membership, begins Thursday morning. The complete make-up of the new council will not be known for two or three weeks at least.

Had Klan Support.
Akron, O., Nov. 7.—Mayor D. C. Rybolt, Republican, was re-elected mayor at Tuesday's election, piling up a plurality of nearly 12,000 votes over his Democratic opponent, R. A. Myers. It was one of the most decisive victories gained in a local municipal election. Rybolt was said to have the support of Klan.

Gableman Defeated.
Portsmouth, O., Nov. 7.—Ralph Calvert, Republican, defeated Mayor William N. Gableman, candidate for reelection by over 1,000. Mayor Gableman two weeks ago ordered the arrest of marching Ku Klux Klansmen and the Klan centered their fight upon him.

Hawkins Re-elected.
Steubenville, O., Nov. 7.—Mayor Frank A. Hawkins, bitterly fought by the Ku Klux Klan, has been re-elected by a plurality of about 500, over Herman B. Massavant, avowed Klan candidate.

Scheible Elected Mayor.
Youngstown, O., Nov. 7.—Charles F. Scheible, Klan candidate for mayor of Youngstown, was elected here by an estimated plurality of 6,000 over five opponents.

Brough Wins.
Toledo, Nov. 7.—Mayor Bernard Brough, Republican, has been re-elected mayor of Toledo.

Maryland Democratic.
Baltimore, Nov. 7.—Governor Albert C. Ritchie has been re-elected and virtually the entire Democratic ticket swept into office by a landslide in Baltimore city. City majorities for Ritchie, William S. Gordy and Thomas H. Robinson, candidates for governor, comptroller and attorney general, respectively, will overwhelm Alexander Armstrong, Republican candidate for governor, and his running mates. On the basis of returns the Democrats will control both houses of the next legislature by substantial majorities. Ritchie's plurality is placed at 30,000.

Democrats Carry Kentucky.
Louisville, Ky., Nov. 7.—The lead of William J. Fields, Democrat, over Charles I. Dawson, Republican, in the Kentucky gubernatorial race, was placed at about 20,000 in Louisville. Returns from counties of western Kentucky showed substantial Democratic majorities, while a factional Republican fight over a judgeship in the eleventh congressional district is believed to have cost Dawson thousands of votes. Democratic state headquarters are claiming a Fields victory by 40,000.

In Chicago.
Chicago, Nov. 7.—Returns from the election in Chicago indicated Republicans had won most of the offices. Twenty-six superior judges were elected for a term of six years. The Democrats claim to have elected Daniel Ryan for county commissioner.

Democrats Elect Mayor.
Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 7.—Syracuse repeated its Democratic landslide of two years ago in the municipal elections, returning John H. Walrath, present mayor, to the city hall by a majority of about 4,000.

Mayor of Philadelphia.
Philadelphia, Nov. 7.—W. Freeland Kendrick was elected mayor of Philadelphia and with him the entire Republican ticket.

Cornwell Lands.
London, O., Nov. 7.—Leroy Cornwell, Republican anti-Klan candidate, was elected over C. H. Long, Democrat, by an overwhelming majority.

Mayor Curtis Re-elected.
Canton, O., Nov. 7.—Mayor C. C. Curtis, Republican, has been re-elected by a majority of over 3,000 over August Smith, Democrat.

POWELL WINNER

Dayton, Nov. 7.—Unofficial returns from the 184 Dayton precincts today indicate the largest majority given any one candidate in the municipal election yesterday was accorded Judge William G. Powell, Republican candidate for reelection as chief justice of the municipal court.

Judge Powell received a majority of 7,318 votes over his Democratic opponent, Harry F. Nolan. The total vote in this contest, which was one of the most interesting in the campaign, was: Powell, 24,351; Nolan, 17,033.

Powell carried 11 of the 12 wards in Dayton. In some of the wards which are ordinarily listed in the Democratic column Judge Powell received an exceptionally healthy vote. The unofficial returns were replete with surprises. One of the biggest surprises was the defeat of the one-mill levy on city property. The measure failed to receive the 60 per cent vote necessary for its adoption. The returns indicated a total of 23,374 votes against the levy and 17,679 votes in the affirmative.

CINCINNATI RESULTS
Cincinnati, O., Nov. 7.—Returns from the first 100 precincts reported in Cincinnati indicated that the Queen City, the home of Robert A. Taft, author of the Taft act, had defeated the proposition and also the extra municipal levy issued ofered to relieve the city of financial stress.

The vote showed that Bert Lohman, Democratic candidate for city auditor, was giving Alfred Dekebach, Republican incumbent, a hard race, but indicated that Dekebach probably would be re-elected by a majority of about 15,000.

This would be the lowest majority given a Republican candidate in Cincinnati in years, and would appear to indicate that the partisan fight not only was against the extra tax levies and financial relief for the city, but also against the principal candidate for election on the Republican ticket.

SPRINGFIELD VOTE

Springfield, Nov. 7.—Clark County voters defeated every amendment at the polls Tuesday according to returns from 100 out of 127 precincts.

The old age pension bill was defeated by a two to one vote. The Taft bill was defeated by two to one, and the Albaugh bill five to one. C. H. Roade and C. K. Biser, candidates for city commission having the indorsement of the Klan, were elected by two to one over John Frock and W. D. Gothard.

The Klan school board ticket was defeated by more than 3,000 votes.

EAST HIGH ELEVEN EVENS SCORE WITH WILBERFORCE TEAM

After losing the first game by a narrow margin, Coach Lloyd Lewis' East High School football team came back Monday afternoon defeating Wilberforce Academy in the second game of the three game series, 33 to 6 at Wilberforce.

The defeat evens the series and whets the football appetite of fans for the final game of the series to be played at Cox Memorial Athletic Field in about two weeks. In the opening game at Cox Field, the East High pastimers played their first game, losing to the Academy eleven 7 to 6 on a failure to register a point after touchdown.

After several weeks practicing, Coach Lewis had his athletes in the best of shape for the game Monday afternoon and they had little difficulty in running through the University prep for a big score. East High eleven will close its season Thanksgiving Day, meeting Dunbar High of Lexington, Ky., at Lexington.

INTEREST REVIVES IN CEDARVILLE AND ANTIOCH EMBROGLIO

Football interest in Greene County this week will center in the Antioch-Cedarville College game at Cedarville Friday afternoon.

Cedarville annually makes the set-back with Antioch at Cedarville, a rally day for the College, and the game has the effect of drawing fans from many surrounding counties and towns.

For the last two years Cedarville has defeated Antioch on the Cedarville gridiron and Antioch will strive this year to break the spell and take the home game from the Reformed Presbyterians. Last Saturday Cedarville lost to Ashland 45 to 0, while on the previous afternoon Antioch took a 46 to 0 set-back from Heidelberg.

In the opening game of the season for both teams at Yellow Springs, Antioch defeated Cedarville.

Trautwein, assistant football coach at Wittenberg will referee the game which will start at 2:30 o'clock.

CEDARVILLE HIGH GRIDDERS WIN FROM BEAVER HIGH TEAM

Floundering over a field of mud and water, Cedarville High School football team managed to hand Beaver High the short end of a 33-0 score Monday afternoon. This is the first game this year for either school but both managed to exhibit good playing.

The Beaver team, under the leadership of Earle Collins, former Cedarville College star, was in fine shape, but was slightly outweighed by Cedarville crowd. Cedarville's aggression, under the efficient management of Jim Peters, its crack quarterback, has been practicing faithfully for several weeks and has rounded into exceptional form.

In the first quarter, Smith, Cedarville right end, took the Beavers off their feet by catching Lee's 20 yard pass and going the remaining ten yards for the first score of the game. Little kicked goal.

Cedarville's second score came in the second quarter when Peters, rounded Beaver's left end to a touchdown. Little again kicked goal.

A line buck by Acton and two runs by Little, one for 45 yards, accounted for the remaining touchdowns. Smith's dropkick finished off one of the scores in the point-after-touchdown and brought the tally up to 33.

Beaver's uneven line was rushed considerably by Cedarville's hard hitting backfield, but the former continued to hold Cedarville from excessive gains by good tackling. Jacobs sustained an injured neck when he and Smith collided in an attempt to capture the ball.

Cedarville College plays Antioch Nov. 9 and the High School will probably follow Saturday, Nov. 10 with a game with either Jamestown or Caesar Creek on the C. C. Campus. The lineup:

WILMINGTON PLAYS FINAL HOME GAME WITH CARROLL U.

Wilmington College football team will play its annual home coming game this year with John Carroll University of Cleveland next Friday at Wilmington.

The game will be the last home meeting of the Quakers this season and they are expecting a large crowd. Carroll, former St. Ignace, defeated Dayton University 21 to 0 last Saturday and Wilmington will meet Dayton next week.

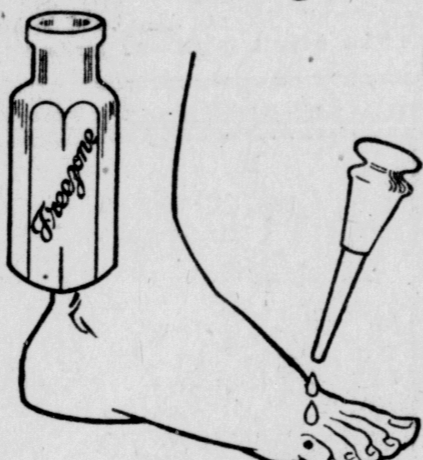

Carroll held Carnegie Tech, winner over Pittsburg, to a two touch-down victory and lost to St. Xavier by a small score recently.

XENIA HOMECOMING AND DEDICATION DAY NOVEMBER 16

Xenia Central High School football team will play its combined homecoming, dedication day and final game of the season at Cox Memorial Athletic Field Friday, November 16, with London High School it is announced by athletic authorities.

Elaborate plans for a fitting program to celebrate the inauguration of the new athletic field will mark the contest with the Madison County gridders. It is expected by that time that the new ornamental entrance will be completed and a gala occasion will be made of the day.

Xenia High will play McClain High of Greenfield Friday, November 9 and after the home coming game with London will meet Washington C. H. High at Washington in the final game either November 23 or 24. Plans for the dedication of the new athletic field will be announced later.

Recent rainy weather has deterred workmen in the completion of the ornamental entrance. The pillars are being constructed of brick, topped by stone from the Milford quarries of the George Dodds and Sons Company, which have been donated to the school by that company.

The school only for the bronze lettering on the stones that will designate the field. On one of these stones will be a credit tablet to the Central High School classes that made the field possible by donating class money to the fund. On the other will be the lettering "Dedicated to the memory of Edwin B. Cox."

The late Mr. Cox was superintendent of the Xenia Public Schools for many years. High school classes conceived and carried out the plans for preserving his memory through the medium of a much-needed athletic field and F. W. Dodds, who purchased and developed the Dodds addition, donated six acres to the school to be used for the field.

BROWN AND GREENE ..
Chapter 7

Lee tried to look into the dark eyes of this strange woman and to read her feelings, but she kept her face turned away from him. He knew suddenly that she was fighting to hide the lonely bitterness of her life. A compelling sympathy vibrated between them—a sympathy which intuitively understands—a sympathy that seemed vital and tinglingly intimate. He wondered if she felt it too.

"I will look for you again very soon—if I may," he asked, and held his hand toward her, wondering if she would take it. The next instant he felt her firm fingers grasp his and grip them for a second.

"My name is Brown," he explained joyfully and with a question in his frank blue eyes which demanded an answer.

"And mine is Greene!" she laughed back and her dark eyes snapped with amusement. "Brown and Greene, that's funny," she said. "Did you ever notice what friendly sympathy there is between the browns and greens of the forest?"

He knew that she, too, had felt that strange vibration of sympathy between them of which he had been so conscious. The thought pleased him. Then he looked down at her firm white hands and his arms fell limp against his sides. Her small vital strength was so forceful and self-sufficient. It rebuffed him.

"I shall be glad to have you—intrude again if you want to," she said softly. "I'll promise not to swarm, too," she added, chiding him regally. "And you'll forgive me for being so churlish?" he interrogated anxiously.

"Of course," she answered, looking up with a smile into his blue eyes. "Don't think about anything like that. Let's just be friendly without asking questions. Can't we just take each other for granted—like the browns and greens of the forest?" And she met his gaze with one long sweeping look of understanding. "Good-bye," she said simply, and in the next instant she had gone from him, disappearing along the wooded trail.

Lee stood still and looked after her. And all the trees and pine needles and grasses seemed an exquisite blending of brown and green. A warm peacefulness, like the smoky low whispering of a drowsy song bird, hovered deliciously over his senses. For a long time he stood as in a trance, lest he lose the lingering touch of her vivid personality.

After what seemed like a long sweet dream, he roused suddenly. His thoughts came jumping back into reality. Though even yet he felt loathe to leave the spot. He pulled out a

Do we eat to live or live to eat?

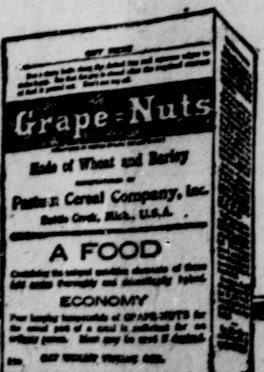

THOSE who live to eat usually have a short life, and not always a merry one.

Those who eat to live know that it is not how much they eat, but rather the food they properly digest that makes for health and long life.

The crisp, delicious wheat-and-barley food, Grape-Nuts, is not only good to eat, but it digests easily, and supplies life essential vitamin and mineral elements from the grain, without which health and strength cannot be maintained.

Grape-Nuts with milk or cream is completely nourishing—a delightful, well-balanced food for those who eat to live long and happily.

cigarette and lit it, and threw himself down on a soft stretch of moss and pine needles.

The fascinating personality of Cynthia Elliott, whom his hurt feelings had caused him to run away from; and this strange "Greene" elfin person who had come into his life so unexpectedly, seemed to be plunged into dead combat in his warring thoughts. He had a queer feeling that he must keep them away from each other, even in his own brain. In spite of the fact that the slender khaki-clad form had touched his life so casually, he knew instinctively that its influence upon him was stronger than an ordinary casual contact.

He thought "If only Cynthia would not hurt me so," and the next minute—"If that Elfish Greene Thing were not quite so superbly unapproachable."

Then he blew a long puff of cigarette smoke into the air; and as he watched it rise quickly and float away, he wondered why Fate had kept messing up things so for him. Even the peace of the forest had been strangely altered now. He tried to be resentful over this Greene girl's encroachment; but no matter how hard he tried to feel cross with her, he found he just couldn't. She had inspired his admiration and aroused his curiosity in one brief meeting. Tomorrow—"A Letter."

COUNTY JOINS STATE IN DEFEATING LAW PROPOSALS

ELECTIVE FRANCHISE; WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION CHANGE PASSED

VOTERS ACCEPT TWO PROPOSALS; REJECT OTHERS

Four Proposed Changes to State Laws Are Snowed Under By Electors

Columbus, Nov. 7.—Secretary of State Brown this afternoon announced that tabulation of unofficial returns from 7,485 precincts out of 8,247 give: Workmen's compensation proposal, yes, 529,147; no, 463,336.

Taft referendum: yes, 330,489; no, 632,134.

Albaugh referendum: yes, 216,765; no, 652,215.

Old age pension: yes, 352,416; no, 677,826.

Elective franchise: yes, 484,838; no, 394,345.

Publication notices: yes, 324,057; no, 443,240.

These figures, it was announced include complete unofficial returns from 61 counties and partial returns from the remaining 27 counties.

Returns indicate that the workmen's compensation proposal and the proposed amendment to the state constitution, erasing the words: "white male" from the section defining qualifications of voters are the only ones of the proposed constitutional amendments and these legislative proposals winning out in Tuesday's statewide election.

The state issues, comprising three legislative proposals and three constitutional amendments submitted after ratification by the legislature, aroused some interest all over the state while local fights in some cases of exceptional bitterness, brought out many votes in these communities.

The Taft taxation bill, providing for a reclassification of taxation laws and the rearranging of levy limits, probably attracted greatest interest among legislative proposals.

The measure, which was brought to a referendum through the efforts of the Ohio Association of Real Estate Boards, would increase the levy limits in cities from 14 to 17 mills and reduced those for rural communities from 15 to 14 mills.

It also provides for the creation of a county budget commission composed of the county auditor, treasurer and prosecutor. Both Representative Robert A. Taft of Cincinnati the author of the measure and the various real estate boards carried on campaigns for and against the measure.

Republican officers of the last legislature favored the bill, while the Democratic state organization announced itself strongly against its ratification. Governor Donahoe vetoed the bill and the Legislature repassed it.

The Albaugh measure, a companion bill to the Taft measure, would abolish the system of electing township assessors, make the county unit of assessment and create a county board of assessors, composed of elective county officials. Like the Taft bill the Albaugh measure, was passed over the gubernatorial veto.

The third measure, that providing for old age pensions, was initiated, the general assembly never having passed on it.

The State Federation of Labor and the Fraternal Order of Eagles were instrumental in having the measure submitted to the voters.

The measure would provide for a system of pensions for citizens past 65 years of age who have a limited income and only a small amount of property.

Of the constitutional amendments, that eliminating employers "open liability" in connection with workmen's compensation, probably was the most important. It would permit the Legislature to enact a law that would practically abolish possibility of employers, who are contributors to the compensation fund, being sued for damages by an injured employee because of violation of any lawful safety, device law or order.

The amendment was submitted by the Legislature as an agreed proposition between organized capital and labor.

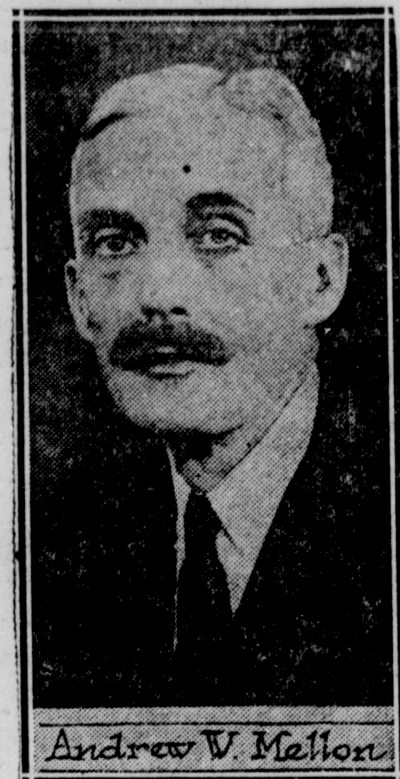

Another amendment would strike the words "white male" from the present constitution.

These words barred women and Negroes from voting until the federal amendments enfranchising them were ratified and became effective. They are "dead wood" in the present Ohio constitution.

The other amendment would give secretary of state authority to publish official arguments or constitutional amendments and referred or initiated laws. Under the present constitution these arguments are mailed to voters at a large expense.

The proposed amendment is expected to reduce costs of such an election approximately $50,000.

MELLON MAY ACT IN REPARATIONS

President Coolidge is said to be seriously considering appointing Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon as the American representative on the Allied Board that is to determine Germany's ability to pay reparations, providing French restrictions do not make American participation impossible. Secretary Mellon, a Pittsburgh millionaire, is one of the leading financial experts of the world.

TUESDAY ELECTION CONSIDERED TO BE EVEN PARTY BREAK

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Impartial observers inclined to the belief that Tuesday's election was about a stand-off from a partisan standpoint, and that the results proved little if anything concerning the temper of the electorate in relation to the approaching presidential campaign. Local issues for the most part overshadowed national issues everywhere and turned the tide of election.

The new Senate will now be composed of 51 Republicans, 43 Democrats and 2 farmer-labor candidates. This allows a Republican majority over the Democrats of 8, and a majority over all of only six votes.

When it is considered that in the slim Republican majority of six is to be found such Independents as Brookhart, of Iowa; Howell of Nebraska; Frazier, of North Dakota; Borah, of Idaho, LaFollette of Wisconsin; Norris of Nebraska and Ladd of North Dakota, it will be seen that the Republicans will control the next Senate in name only, and only to the extent they can keep the above named Independents in line.

The new House will consist of 224 Republicans, 208 Democrats, 1 farmer-labor, 1 Independent and 1 socialist—a Republican majority over all of but 13 votes.

All things considered, Tuesday's elections did not provide any political upsets. The nearest approach to one, occurred in the 24th district of New York which returned a Republican congressman, Benjamin L. Fairchild in place of James V. Canly, Democrat, who was elected a year ago, but died in the interim before he was seated. However, this district is generally considered close.

DEMOCRAT ELECTED WILMINGTON MAYOR

For the second time in the history of Wilmington, that Republican bound municipality elected a Democratic Mayor at the regular election held Tuesday.

H. D. Pennington, Democrat and Wilmington business man, won the office by a majority of 66 votes over R. L. Compton, the Republican nominee.

Wilmington is overwhelmingly Republican, but friends of the Democratic nominee from both parties rallied to his support at the polls. The election was quiet. Other than the majority race, there were no surprises.

RAIL UNION HEADS TO MEET

Cleveland, Nov. 7.—A meeting of the chief executives of the 16 standard railroad labor organizations "for the purpose of agreeing upon a definite legislative policy in connection with matters to come before the next congress" has been called by Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, to meet in Washington Nov. 14, Mr. Stone announced.

MAN CONFESSES HE SLEW CHILD WITH A HAMMER

Says He Committed Crime Because Girl Would Not Say She Loved Him.

Akron, O., Nov. 7.—"She wouldn't say whether she loved me and so I killed her with the hammer."

In those words, Alexander Kusick 19, is said to have confessed today that he slew 12-year-old Elizabeth Nagy, whose parents both work during the day. Kusick boarded at the Nagy home and told police he had been in love with the child for several months. He went to work at the Goodrich plant as usual Tuesday morning, but returned about 8 o'clock, knowing he said, that the parents would be absent at work. He first obtained a hammer which he left in his own room. Then he visited the room of the child who was still in bed.

"I awakened her," he said, "and asked her if she loved me. She did not answer and I went back to my room and got the hammer. I asked her again. When she sat there and stared at me, I hit her on the head four or five times."

Later he tried to bandage her wounds and when the coroner visited the home he found the little girl, her head swathed in dirty rags, dead. Kusick sat for several hours beside the body before he finally decided to notify the police.

EYES OF OKLAHOMA ARE TURNED TOWARD THE FEDERAL COURT

Oklahoma City, Nov. 7.—Eyes of Oklahoma were turned upon the Federal Court at Lawton before which to be heard an application for injunction to restrain the House of Representatives, the Ku Klux Klan and others from prosecuting the impeachment case against Governor J. C. Walton. Walton's sudden flank attack was a complete surprise to state officials who are directing his prosecution but after a number of conferences which lasted well beyond midnight, it was announced that an "effective reply" had been prepared for presentation to the court in answer to the governor's move.

Speaker W. D. McBee, of the House was named one of the defendants. He expressed confidence that the trial of Governor Walton would proceed on schedule. He did not anticipate any interference from the federal court.

Clark County puts approval on bond issue for hospital

Greene County will soon be relieved of its quarter interest in the District Tuberculosis Hospital at Springfield.

Balloting Tuesday on a $350,000 bond issue to purchase the hospital from the other three counties and operate it as a county sanatorium, Clark County voters passed the issue by a majority of 3,500.

The hospital is now jointly owned by Clark, Champaign, Madison and Greene Counties, and the $350,000 issue will finance the purchase by Clark County of the interests of Greene, Champaign and Madison Counties.

RECOVERING FROM INJURY TO ARM

Earl Pickleheimer, Cincinnati road contractor, in charge of the resurfacing of the Dayton pike, who received a compound fracture of his arm, and bruises, when run over by a truck on the pike, last Friday, is convalescing.

Mr. Pickleheimer, was supervising the work along the highway, when an approaching truck swerved into the detour. In order to avoid being struck by the truck, Pickleheimer attempted to jump on the machine, and missed his footing, one wheel crushing his arm. His injuries were dressed at the McClellan Hospital, this city. The name of the driver of the truck was not learned.

WHITNEY WARREN, JR., MAY WED ACTRESS

Jeannette Eagels and Whitney Warren, Jr.

Whitney Warren, Jr., son of Whitney Warren, of New York City, one of the world's leading architects, is reported engaged to Miss Jeannette Eagels, beautiful leading actress in "Rain." Warren, who is a member of the most exclusive clubs in New York, numbers among his cousins Lady Queensborough, the Countess Guy de Lasteyrie, Robert W. Goellet and George Henry Warren, Jr. Through his mother he is a member of the famous Whitney family. About a year ago young Warren entered the offices of Sam H. Harris, who produced "Rain," and it was there the romance began. Young Whitney quit a fashionable preparatory school in 1914 to enlist in the French Army, where he won the Croix de Guerre and Medaille Militaire, France's highest decorations, for valor. He was once engaged to Miss Geraldine Miller Graham, New York society girl, whom the Prince of Wales hailed as "the most beautiful girl in America," but the engagement was broken by mutual consent.

HUNGRY MOBS CONTINUE RIOTING IN GERMANY

Berlin, Nov. 7.—Hungry mobs again rioted in Berlin today. Many stores were looted. No casualties were reported up to this afternoon. Despite the police appeal, the public failed to support the authorities against the rioters.

One person was killed and several seriously wounded in bread riots in the heart of the Saxonian old fields. The police fired upon the rioters. The Dresden government has submitted its controversy with the reichswehr to the supreme court at Leipzig.

The situation in Berlin is intense. More than 600 persons have been arrested in the past 24 hours charged with plundering.

Premier Froelich, of Thuringia, who is in Berlin, is protesting to the federal government against alleged discrimination by the reichswehr. He urged President Ebert and Chancellor Stresemann to visit the "Bavarian front" to get a personal view of the activities of the "Bavarian Irregulars."

Advices from the Rhineland said that the separatists had seized money presses and were printing their own city currency. The allied district commissioner in the zone, where the secessionists were turning out money, forced the reichsbank to accept it as legitimate.

Paris, Nov. 7.—Acting under urgent instructions from the council of ambassadors, Premier Poincare telegraphed an ultimatum to Berlin, demanding that Germany answer before the end of the week whether Germany is willing to permit interallied military control to be resumed. There was no mention of "sanctions" in the ultimatum, but it is understood that France is prepared to take the sternest measures.

The papers here have suddenly dropped their long discussion of the Hughes proposals, under orders to play up the terrible conditions in Germany. It is learned in high quarters that both the Quai d'Orsay and Downing street are seriously alarmed at the state of affairs in Germany. Private information coming in uncensored over diplomatic wires indicates a state of desperation in the reich approaching a situation near to defiance of the allies.

Mr. Coolidge adhered strictly to the view that the situation called for a thorough inquiry into Germany's capacity to pay and that there was no connection between such an inquiry and international indebtedness. "The president made it plain that the American government was not 'urging anything on anyone,' and that the French 'state of mind' will determine the question of American participation."

The president's estimate of the situation was outlined in his statement substantially as follows: "The American position is a desire to be helpful. We have no other motive. We have no direct interest to serve; no expectation of reaping any reward. We are undertaking to discharge our obligation by lending our counsel, if we can. There is no occasion for being disturbed or discouraged if we cannot in 24 hours accomplish what Europe has been trying to do for hundreds of years. We must be patient and do the best we can."

Despite the conviction that the Hughes-Curzon scheme has collapsed, Secretary Hughes and the British government are obviously hard at work to save something from the wreckage. Great Britain hopes that, even without French participation, it may be possible to win American participation in some scheme for dealing with the reparations problem.

WALTON APPEALS COURTS

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 7.—Governor J. C. Walton has appealed to the federal courts in an effort to invoke government intervention in the situation here. On the outcome of the action is expected to depend the question of whether the impeachment proceedings against the executive will be disposed of in the near future, or whether they will await a final decision by the United States supreme court.

TRUCK DRIVER KILLED

Columbus, Nov. 7.—Neil Barkus of Circleville was killed near Canal Winchester, this county, when a truck he was driving was struck by a north-bound Hocking Valley train. Barkus was placed on the train, but died before reaching Columbus.

DISCUSS RAILROAD PROBLEM

Washington, Nov. 7.—Senator Albert B. Cummins of Iowa went to the white house at President Coolidge's request to discuss the railroad problem and the question of remedial legislation at the coming session of congress. On leaving the president's office, Senator Cummins declared his talk with the president will not result in any change in his intention to introduce his bill for compulsory consolidation of the hundreds of existing lines into a small number of competitive regional systems shortly after congress is convened in December.

Woonsocket, R. I., Nov. 7.—Richard Dieters, alleged telephone "spy" at the exclusive Crescent Athletic Club, Brooklyn, N. Y., who was found near here, after being missing four days, returned voluntarily today to New York with Police Detective Richard Powers of that city.

Threats against his life and threats by detectives to "railroad" him to jail, unless he produced letters from a prominent Philadelphia woman to B. M. Jeffe, a clubman, drove him to "plant" his "hat on Manhattan bridge and flee, Dieters said.

SPARKS AND MCPHERSON ON COMMISSION; LESOURD, WAGNER, AND CLARK WIN

Proposed Amendment to City Charter Passes By Large Majority—Rife and Bales Leading Candidates in County Board of Education Race.

Greene County turned down the Taft and Albaugh tax laws and the proposed old age pension law, defeated the three proposed amendments to the state constitution, and staged interesting contests for board of education candidates in the election held Tuesday.

Xenia City cast a similar vote against the six state measures, elected Harry Sparks and Dr. C. G. McPherson, city commissioners for long terms and chose Harry S. LeSourd, L. A. Wagner and Louis Clark to serve on the Xenia City Board of Education. Returns show that R. O. Copsey defeated J. E. Jones, incumbent, for justice of the peace in Xenia Township and J. H. McPherson won over George McKee by a comfortable margin for township trustee.

Xenia City also passed by a large majority a proposed amendment to the city charter which will eliminate primary elections of commission candidates when there are not more than twice the number of candidates as there are places to be filled on the commission. S. M. McKay, running without opposition for short term on the City Commission, was given a large complimentary vote.

Because of a fight over Board of Education candidates, interest in the city and county centered in this election. H. S. LeSourd, incumbent, lead the city board ticket with a vote of 1886 while L. A. Wagner and Louis F. Clark finished within the required three, the former with a vote of 1709 and the latter with a vote of 1679.

Ed. S. Davidson, polled a vote of 1641. Mrs. Amanda C. Evans, colored candidate, polled 1473 votes. J. W. Santmyer, president of the board finished sixth with 1248 and J. D. Adair, independent candidate finished with a count of 1161.

For City Commission, Harry Sparks led the ticket with a vote of 1897, with Dr. McPherson, incumbent, second with 1798. Harry Fisher, present commissioner was outside with 1267 votes and McKay polled a large complimentary vote. The charter amendment passed by a large majority.

J. B. Rife, Clifton, candidate for re-election on the County Board of Education, led the ticket with a vote of 2,171, with H. B. Bales, Paintersville, second with 2,162. S. H. Shawhan, Beavercreek, "Two," incumbent, third with 2,099 and Charles G. Hatch, Jamestown, trailing with 1,828. The contest was close and undecided until the last precincts were in.

The Greene County vote on the state measures was as follows: Taft Law, For—1,844; Against—5,055; Albaugh Law, For—1,080; Against, 5,219; Old Age Pension Law, For—2,363; Against—5,470; Workmen's Compensation amendment, For—3,259; Against, 3,745; Amendment to eliminate the words "white male," For—2,922; Against—3,935; Publication amendment, For—1,699; Against—3,364.

J. E. Jones, Xenia Township justice of the peace, was defeated by R. O. Copsey for re-election to that office, by a vote of 2,108 to 1,819. Mrs. Winnifred B. Mason was re-elected constable in Xenia township and Edward Wilkin was also elected constable. Although there are two constable positions open in the township, only one constable has been used for some time until township trustees decided to use two. They are paid by fees.

There was no contest on for township trustees, J. W. Hedges, Graham Bryson and Ward Grant, being re-elected to those positions. J. H. McPherson, township treasurer, whose position was eliminated by the Legislature defeated George McKee, present clerk for that office by a comfortable majority.

A good vote was polled during the day in all precincts, interest in local issues principally bringing out the voters.

LODGE MEMBERS ARRANGE MASQUERADE.

Twenty-five members of the Xenia Council, Daughters of America, and their friends arranged a masquerade surprise Monday evening, on Mrs. Edward Smith, honoring her birthday.

The rooms of the Smith home were attractively decorated with witches, cats and black cats. The lights were shaded with yellow. The guests were dressed in a variety of clever and grotesque costumes and the early part of the evening was devoted to the guessing of the identity of the maskers. Before the masks were removed a "mock wedding" caused much merriment, in which the "bride" proved to be Mrs. George Morgan, and the bridegroom, Mrs. Frank Lord, while Mrs. William McKinney, cleverly carried the part of the officiating clergyman. A remainder of the evening was spent with music and dancing. A delicious refreshment course, prepared by the guests, was served at late hour.

The other members of the circle, were David Doggett, Phillip Frame, Paul Spahr, Victor Weaver, Kenneth Wilkerson, Arthur Currie, Norbert McCallister, and Ernest Jones. Almost Jones gave a "sermon" as a feature of the show, and Thomas Conklin sang a solo.

Jobs are scarce for the Physically Run-Down

THE DOOR of opportunity flings wide its portals only to the man who is up and doing—who is filled with pep and punch—with rich, red blood tingling through his veins. Mountain size obstacles dwindle to ant hills and ambitions become accomplishments to these sort of men.

Where is the employer who seeks the man who is physically run-down?—The man without stamina to withstand the knocks and gaff of the hurrying, scurrying world of business? S. S. S. is the long established and time-honored creator of red blood cells. You cannot expect to get very far up the ladder unless you are equipped with a body that is strong and vigorous. S. S. S. will start you on your way. Don't allow the "Door of Opportunity" to be closed to you because you have not the stamina to withstand the gaff—because your nerve power is lacking. Build up your system!

S. S. S. made of carefully selected and scientifically prepared and proportioned herbs and barks makes you fit! Get back that old time punch! When opportunity knocks be ready to answer the call!

COURT NEWS

SUES FOR ALIMONY.

Grace Atley asks for alimony and injunction in a suit filed in Common Pleas Court against Vernon Atley, whom she married June 14, 1921, and his father, C. A. Atley.

The plaintiff declares the defendant, Vernon Atley, left her September 17, 1923, without money or other resources, and went away without telling her where he was going. She declares that through their joint efforts on a farm in Caesar Creek Township, there is now considerable stock and crops on which C. A. Atley claims an interest, and will, unless restrained, claim the property and sell it. The plaintiff wants this property assigned to her as alimony and asks that C. A. Atley be restrained from removing it until final determination of the suit. F. L. Johnson is attorney for the plaintiff.

You Won't Have to Wait For Your Pass Book

The Depositor
"Fine! This statement handed to me with my canceled checks once a month tells just how my account stands. I say this is real bank service. It has the pass book beat a mile."

The President
"Yes Sir! Sending out depositors' monthly statements instead of balancing pass books is one of the best moves this bank ever made."

You will no longer need to leave your pass book (your receipt for deposits) with us a day or more at the last of every month in order to find out how your account stands.

With the Automatic Bookkeeping Machine, which we have installed in our accounting department, we shall have every depositor's account posted up to date at all times.

...A neatly printed, machine-figured statement of your checks and deposits, and the balance of your account, will be ready for you every month with your canceled checks. Your pass book will show only the amounts deposited.

And if you ever want a statement of your account in a hurry, we can give it to you with every check and deposit listed right up to date, inside of five minutes.

This Monthly Statement System is an improvement in our service to you that we are sure will earn your approval. It is less burdensome, quicker, more accurate and far more satisfactory to everyone concerned than the old method of calling in and balancing pass books.

A REMARKABLE MAN, AUTHOR OF A REMARKABLE WORK.

One hundred years ago there was born in Boston a man who became, as we believe, the greatest of American historians and one of the five or six great historical writers of the world. No American who has not read the eight volumes in which Francis Parkman told the story of the struggle of France and England in the New World has any true notion of the dimensions or of the significance of the struggle, out of which issued two great nations—Canada and the United States; nor has he any idea of the vigor and charm that a great historian can impart to an historical narrative. Romance is implicit in the wars of the French and English pioneers with each other and with the Indians; but it is romance that many a dry-as-dust historian successfully keeps from his pages. Parkman's distinction is that he produced a work both scholarly and delightful. Everything is carefully documented, as a result of painful and thorough research. The thing is so accurate and so complete that it left little for succeeding scholars to do; yet the books are as fascinating and as full of movement and color as a novel. Parkman's achievement is a remarkable triumph of the intellect and the imagination united—a work of genius.

It was a triumph too over obstacles and discouragements that would have broken the spirit of almost any other man. Delicate in health from his birth, he had hardly begun the task that he had set himself when his nerves and eyes gave out together. For years he was virtually blind and could open his eyes only in a darkened room. But he had books and documents read aloud to him, and he invented a contrivance that enabled him to write and make notes legibly with his eyes closed. Nevertheless, most of his material he had to carry in his memory, because he could not consult the notes that he had made. Much of the time he was so frail nervously that he could work for only a half hour a day. For a long time composition proceeded at the rate of six lines in every twenty-four hours.

But he never faltered. Every minute that he could use eye or brain he used them. When he was strong enough to travel he visited the places where he could consult the original documents that he needed in his work; when he was not he had them copied and sent to him. The labor of collecting, examining and digesting the mass of manuscript material in French as well as English would have been heavy for a strong, well man; for such a harassed invalid as Parkman it was appalling. His great work was literally the labor of a lifetime, for he began the Conspiracy of Pontiac when he was twenty-five and did not publish A Half Century of Conflict until he was almost seventy.

A remarkable man and a remarkable life! In strength of will, tenacity, moral courage, Francis Parkman was the peer of any of the wilderness heroes of whom he wrote and the superior of most of them. It was only physical strength that he lacked, and his example shows how unessential physical strength is to great achievement when the spirit is equal to the task.

"WOODMAN SPARE THAT TREE."

People travel across the stormy Atlantic and spend no end of money on European tours. Why? Largely because the European cities are reputed to have a certain romantic and imaginary charm.

Yet this so called charm often lies in some very simple feature that can be developed anywhere. Many American cities and towns have such features now. A recent writer in the American City, for instance, thinks the charm of Paris lies largely in the beautiful trees with which that famous city is profusely planted, and which are preserved with the greatest care even in the business districts.

Any American city, big or little, can in due time secure just that feature of charm and attractiveness by studying tree culture for its streets. If its people have been negligent in this respect, they can plant quick growing varieties that will transform the town in a few years.

Too frequently the hustling American folks will take down a tree merely because it blocks the sidewalk a little or for trifling reasons. The belated interest in the preservation of trees leads to the hope that in the future they will give greater consideration than in the past.

It does not have to cross the wide seas to find charm. We find it here at home, and we should cherish and protect this gift of nature as our most valuable asset.

Just Folks

TROUBLE
What do you know of trouble? he
What do I know? said he;
I know it is ugly looking ahead
And multiplied three times three.
I know it's a far worse thing to dread
Than ever 'twill really be.

Have you ever lost, when you
Wanted to gain?
Time, said he;
I've cherished a dream in
My mind, but it's all gone
And I have suffered an hour
Of pain.

"I know the trouble you talk about
Is worse than the hurt you bear,
That the greatest loss of a man is Doubt.
So stand to your time of care,
For many a trouble will dwindle
Out
When it finds that a man is There."

"What do you know of trouble?" he Said
"This I have learned," said he;
"Trouble is when looking Ahead
Is multiplied three times three,
And far more than brings the Eyes of a man."

HOW LONG WILL UNCLE SAM PUT UP WITH HIM?"

—putting in first the crumbs, then the oysters, the seasonings, and, finally, another tablespoon of sweet milk and two more tablespoons of oyster liquor. (Do not have more than these two layers in the dish; for if three layers of oysters are used, the middle layer is likely to be underdone when the other two are cooked.) Cover all with more buttered crumbs and slip the dish into a hot oven to bake for 30 minutes. A sprinkling of nutmeg or mace between the layers may be used if desired. This dish should be served very hot.

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made.

Here's an easy way to save $2, and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? Thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will soon earn it a permanent place in your home.
Into a pint bottle, pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.
It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.
Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments. To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Today's Talk

ON STANDING BY
We never know when it is most necessary for us to be around. But we do know that if we plant deep within us the seeds of necessity, we shall not disappoint when we find ourselves standing by when we are needed.
I have seen a crowd of people standing by a man who has been injured, not a one knowing what to do, or dumfounded for the moment. And I have seen a man deserted in his direst need by those who were seemingly most fond of him in his prosperity and success.
What does it mean to stand by, anyway?
Well, in the first place, it means trust. You can't stand by anyone you don't trust. And then it means that you believe in that one's capacity for genuineness, though he may have a thousand faults and failings.
Many times this standing by presents a great spectacle. For it emphasizes thoroughbredness to the full.
He who stands by his friend cannot present reservations. He stands by—and that settles the matter.
He who professes most, often practices least. So that we find him whom we least suspected as our friend standing by, while in the distance fades the figure of him whom we thought most loyal to us.
Standing by is no cultivated art. It's a fact of character.
Your friend can't make you believe that he is your friend. You know it—and you alone.

NAVAJO CHURCH, A GIANT CATHEDRAL CARVED BY RAIN AND WIND-BLOWN SAND NEAR WINGATE, NEW MEXICO

Many Curious Objects Are Found In the Natural Sculptures of the Southwest—Pulpit Rock and Navajo Church—A Disappearing River

By NORMAN C. McLOUD

WHEN nature goes in for freaks the results are sometimes more fantastic than the weird imagining of the futurist or cubist painter.

The great southwestern section of the United States is rich in curious formations, in the carving of which natural forces showed themselves master artists. To the tourist along the famous old Santa Fe Trail these strange sculptures in earth and stone bring a constant and fascinating series of scenic delights.

The sculptor who would undertake to create such a work as Pulpit Rock, for instance, would be told that he belonged in the comic strip department of art. The rock may be said to resemble anything from a huge pulpit to a massive oyster shell balanced on a stone pedestal. Located just south of Carlsbad, Kansas, the formation is an object of interest to those who travel the Santa Fe Trail.

Nature As A Sculptor
To the tourist the rock is merely a freak of nature. To the geologist, however, it tells a story of natural forces at their work of carving out a continent. These men of science can see that ages ago the formation was a part of a solid mass of rock, the upper part of which was harder than the lower part. During the process of erosion by the elements, the hard upper portion resisted by the wearing action of water more stubbornly than did the underlying bed of softer stone which now forms the pedestal. The result was the top-heavy effect shown in the illustration.

Hills built by the wind are a feature of the landscape along the Arkansas River. These hills are composed of sand which has been blown from the river bed by the prevailing northwest winds. The sand is formed into dunes and ridges, separated by irregular valleys, and the elevations range as high as 60 feet. Where no vegetation has taken root on the hills the barren sand continues to be blown farther from the river with every strong wind, while new supplies are added from the river bed. This process may be readily seen on a windy day.

A Prehistoric Wall

Curious looking walls appear in the Spanish Peaks, near Thatcher, Colorado. These walls extend for miles in every direction from the foot of the two mountains, and have an appearance of having been built by human forces as a means of protection. The explanation of these curiosities, however, dates back to the time when the rocks were a molten mass. By natural upheaval this liquid material was intruded into the sandstone and shale at the foot of the Rockies. The force which placed it there also drove some of the material to the surface through cracks. When the protruding portions hardened they were so much firmer and tougher than the sandstone and shale that they have resisted the wearing-down process of the elements and stand out as distinct narrow walls. These walls are called dikes because of their resemblance to walls built for the reinforcement of the banks of a stream.

Our Oldest Settlement

Near Laguna, New Mexico, is the village of Acoma, one of the most remarkable Indian Pueblos in the Southwest, notable as the oldest continuously inhabited settlement in the United States. This village is built on top of a high, isolated mesa, or table-land, with precipitous walls of gray sandstone, and has been an object of great interest to travelers from the days of Coronado. Unlike most Pueblos, Acoma is recorded in early chronicles as the home of a people feared as robbers and warriors. Its location, 850 feet above the surrounding country, and its sole approach through a narrow cleft in the rock, rendered it almost impregnable to enemies. The entrance and stairway now in use are the same as were described by Coronado's expedition in 1540, nearly 400 years ago. The inhabitants are expert makers of pottery.

One of the most amazing of Nature's Sculptures is the Navajo Church, northwest of Wingate, New Mexico. This pinnacle, with its sharp spires of white sandstone, something like 300 feet in height, rises conspicuously above the rocky slopes at the top of a foundation of red sandstone. It is a striking object, fashioned by the erosive force of rain and frost, aided and abetted by wind-blown sand. The severe winds have carried the sand of the valley against the rocks with such vigor as to cause the sharp particles of grit to play an important share in the gradual carving of this monumental structure.

Great Natural Bridge

A region of caves, pinnacles and other curious formations exists in the vicinity of Lupton, Arizona. All of these are the creation of erosion by water in soft rock, with the wind-borne sand assisting. Notable among these is the massive natural bridge, carved from sandstone, near Manuelito, Ariz. This bridge is in the form of a perfect arch and shows the sculpture wrought by a small stream. The carving started when the stream began to trickle through a crack in the stone. With the continued flow of the water the crack kept growing in size until the great bridge was developed as shown in one of the photographs.

A petrified forest is one of Nature's most interesting freaks. In the region south of Adamana, Ariz., there are four such forests, included in a Government reservation known as Petrified Forest National Monument. Geologists have determined that the petrified logs are the remains of trees which grew several million years ago.

Upon falling, the trees became buried in sand and clay, finally to a depth of several hundred feet. In later ages they appeared at the surface by the erosion of the covering soil. In their underground bed the wood became changed into stone through the gradual absorption of silica, deposited by underground water. Iron oxides were also absorbed in small quantities, giving the beautiful brown, yellow and red tints which appear in much of the petrified wood. The woody material was entirely replaced by stone through the process of deposit and absorption. Under the microscope thin slices of the petrified material show perfectly the original wood structure, with all the cells distinct.

Some of the logs lie in line, very nearly in the positions into which the trees fell. Others have been moved by the washing away of the soil, and are irregularly placed. Some of the trunks are more than 100 feet in length and six feet in diameter. One of them forms a natural bridge over a small ravine, the water having first washed away the overlying clay and sand and then, following a crevice, worked out the channel underneath. This one is 236 feet long.

A River That Disappears

A disappearing river is one of the remarkable freaks of nature in the neighborhood of Flagstaff, Ariz. The stream drops over a ledge in the form of a picturesque waterfall, and at the foot it passes away from view into an underground cavern. The place at which the river disappears is a series of sink holes known as the Bottomless Pits. They form the entrance to a hidden passage below the surface, made by the action of water in dissolving the limestone. The underground passage carries the river to an outlet in Walnut Canyon, a few miles south.

In New Mexico and Arizona is the land of the Navajo Indians, now peaceful blanket makers, herders and farmers, but for many generations one of America's savage tribes. Their reservation is larger than Massachusetts and New Jersey combined. It is believed that the Navajo blanket was introduced to these Indians by the women of the old Pueblos. The Navajo women are expert weavers and their blankets bring them an income which has been estimated at $500,000 a year. The size of the tribe is increasing, having grown from 9,000 in 1889, to about 20,000 at the present time.

ON ROAD TO BONEYARD

"I have just finished a treatment of your wonderful remedy and can say it has done wonders for me already. For the past five years I have been unable to eat any but the lightest food and that but sparingly, as any food caused me to bloat with gas. I was reduced to a skeleton of ninety pounds, and was on the road to the boneyard. A friend in Birmingham sent me a bottle of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which I took, and I am sure it will entirely cure me of my trouble, judging from what it brought from me and the way I feel." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation, which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. COOLIDGE ISSUES THANKSGIVING DAY MESSAGE TUESDAY

Washington, Nov. 6.—President Coolidge today issued a proclamation setting aside Thursday November 29, as Thanksgiving Day.

"The year has brought to our people two tragic experiences which have deeply affected them," the president said in his proclamation. "One was the death of our beloved president (Harding) which has been mourned wherever there was a realization of the thought of high ideals, noble purpose and unselfish service carried even to the end of supreme sacrifice. His loss recalled the nation to a less capricious and more charitable attitude. It sobered the whole thought of the country."

"A little later came the unparalleled disaster to the friendly people of Japan. This called forth from the people of the U. S. a demonstration of deep and humane feeling. It was wrought into the substance of good works. It created new evidences of our international friendships which is a guarantee of world peace. It replenished the charitable impulse of the country."

"By experiences such as these, men and nations are tested and refined. We have been blessed with much of material prosperity. We shall be better able to appreciate it if we remain the privations others have suffered and we shall be the more worthy of it if we use it for their relief. We will do well then to render thanks for the good that has come to us, and show by our actions that we have become stronger, wiser and truer by the chastenings which have been imposed upon us. We will thus prepare ourselves for the part we must take in a world which forever needs the full measure of service. We have been a most favored people. We ought to be a most generous people. We have been a most blessed people. We ought to be a most thankful people."

A TALK WITH AN XENIA MAN

Mr. E. L. Richards, Prop of Barber Shop of 514 W. Second St., Tells His Experience.

There is nothing like a talk with one of our own citizens for giving hope and encouragement to the anxious sufferer from the dread kidney disease. We, therefore, give here an interview with an Xenia man.

"My back was sore and ached constantly," says Mr. Richards. "Mornings my back and shoulders were so lame and stiff I could hardly move out of bed. My back was weak and it was hard for me to stand any length of time. When I stooped I got sharp pains through my back. My kidneys acted irregularly. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me of the pains in my back and my kidneys became normal."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Richards had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

WILL GIVE SERIES OF LECTURES HERE

Following next week's meeting, he will appear at the First Presbyterian Church, for a week. Dr. Berger is being brought to Xenia for the series of free lectures by the Xenia Ministerial Association. His talks will be concerning faith, health, and psychology. He will appear before both afternoon and evening audiences, beginning at three o'clock in the afternoon, and eight o'clock in the evening. Dr. Berger will preach at Trinity M. E. Church, next Sunday morning.

POPPIES WILL BE SOLD BY LEGION

The Auxiliary will sell sandwiches and coffee in the other booth to be operated by members. It is expected that 1,500 poppies will be ready for sale Saturday.

The Auxiliary is urging members to come to the Legion hall every afternoon and night before Saturday to assist in making poppies.

ELECTION RESULTS AT A GLANCE

DEMOCRATS SWEEP NEW YORK CITY; G. O. P. LEADS STATE

New York, Nov. 7.—Republicans and Democrats divided the honors in the election in New York state. Returns show that the Republicans will control the next state assembly with a gain of six seats. The present representation is 81 Republicans and 69 Democrats. The Republicans also gained one in their representation in congress by the election of Benjamin E. Fairchild in the Twenty-fourth district. He will succeed James V. Ganly, Democrat, who was recently killed in an automobile accident. In Greater New York the Democrats elected 10 judges by pluralities approximating 140,000. In the Thirty-second congressional district former Speaker Thaddeus C. Sweet, Republican, won. The congressional seat left vacant by Bourke Cockran will be taken by J. J. O'Connor, Democrat. Anning S. Pratt, Democrat, defeated Guy O. Palmer, Republican, in the Eleventh congressional district.

Maryland Democratic. Baltimore, Nov. 7.—Governor Albert C. Ritchie has been re-elected and virtually the entire Democratic ticket swept into office by a landslide in Baltimore city. City majorities for Ritchie, William S. Gordy and Thomas H. Robinson, candidates for governor, comptroller and attorney general, respectively, will overwhelm Alexander Armstrong, Republican candidate for governor, and his running mates. On the basis of returns the Democrats will control both houses of the next legislature by substantial majorities. Ritchie's plurality is placed at 30,000.

Democrats Carry Kentucky. Louisville, Ky., Nov. 7.—The lead of William J. Fields, Democrat, over Charles I. Dawson, Republican, in the Kentucky gubernatorial race, was placed at about 20,000 in Louisville. Returns from counties of western Kentucky showed substantial Democratic majorities, while a factional Republican fight over a judgeship in the eleventh congressional district is believed to have cost Dawson thousands of votes. Democratic state headquarters are claiming a Fields victory by 40,000.

In Chicago. Chicago, Nov. 7.—Returns from the election in Chicago indicated Republicans had won most of the offices. Twenty-six superior judges were elected for a term of six years. The Democrats claim to have elected Daniel Ryan for county commissioner.

Democrats Elect Mayor. Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 7.—Syracuse repeated its Democratic landslide of two years ago in the municipal elections, returning John H. Walrath, present mayor, to the city hall by a majority of about 4,000.

Mayor of Philadelphia. Philadelphia, Nov. 7.—W. Freeland Kendrick was elected mayor of Philadelphia and with him the entire Republican ticket.

Cornwell Lands. London, O., Nov. 7.—Leroy Cornwell, Republican anti-klan candidate, was elected over C. H. Long, Democrat, by an overwhelming majority.

Mayor Curtis Re-elected. Canton, O., Nov. 7.—Mayor C. C. Curtis, Republican, has been re-elected by a majority of over 3,000 over August Smith, Democrat.

POWELL WINNER

Dayton, Nov. 7.—Unofficial returns from the 184 Dayton precincts today indicate the largest majority given any one candidate in the municipal election yesterday was accorded Judge William G. Powell, Republican candidate for re-election as chief justice of the municipal court.

Judge Powell received a majority of 7,313 votes over his Democratic opponent, Harry F. Nolan. The total vote in this contest, which was one of the most interesting in the campaign, was: Powell, 24,351; Nolan, 17,038.

Powell carried 11 of the 12 wards in Dayton. In some of the wards which are ordinarily listed in the Democratic column Judge Powell received an exceptionally healthy vote.

The unofficial returns were replete with surprises. One of the biggest surprises was the defeat of the one-mill levy on city property. The measure failed to receive the 60 per cent vote necessary for its adoption. The returns indicated a total of 23,374 votes against the levy and 17,679 votes in the affirmative.

CINCINNATI RESULTS

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 7.—Returns from the first 100 precincts reported in Cincinnati indicated that the Queen City, the home of Robert A. Taft, author of the Taft act, had defeated the proposition and also the extra municipal levy issued offered to relieve the city of financial stress.

The vote showed that Bert Lohman, Democratic candidate for city auditor, was giving Alfred Dekebach, Republican incumbent, a hard race, but indicated that Dekebach probably would be re-elected by a majority of about 15,000.

This would be the lowest majority given a Republican candidate in Cincinnati in years, and would appear to indicate that the partisan fight not only was against the extra tax levies and financial relief for the city, but also against the principal candidate for election on the Republican ticket.

SPRINGFIELD VOTE

Springfield, Nov. 7.—Clark County voters defeated every amendment at the polls Tuesday according to returns from 100 out of 127 precincts.

The old age pension bill was defeated by a two to one vote. The Taft bill was defeated by two to one, and the Albaugh bill five to one.

C. H. Roads and C. K. Blser, candidates for city commission having the endorsement of the klan, were elected by two to one over John Frock and W. D. Gothard.

The klan school board ticket was defeated by more than 3,000 votes.

EAST HIGH ELEVEN
EVENS SCORE WITH WILBERFORCE TEAM

After losing the first game by a narrow margin, Coach Lloyd Lewis' East High School football team came back Monday afternoon defeating Wilberforce Academy in the second game of the three game series, 33 to 6 at Wilberforce.

The defeat evens the series and whets the football appetite of fans for the final game of the series to be played at Cox Memorial Athletic Field in about two weeks. In the opening game at Cox Field, the East High pastimers played their first game, losing to the Academy eleven to six on a failure to register a point after touchdown.

After several weeks practicing, Coach Lewis had his athletes in the best of shape for the game Monday afternoon and they had little difficulty in running through the University preps for a big score. East High eleven will close its season Thanksgiving Day, meeting Dunbar High of Lexington, Ky., at Lexington.

INTEREST REVIVES
IN CEDARVILLE AND
ANTIOCH EMBROGLIO

Football interest in Greene County this week will center in the Antioch-Cedarville College game at Cedarville Friday afternoon.

Cedarville annually makes the sets with Antioch at Cedarville, a rally day for the College, and the game has the effect of drawing fans from many surrounding counties and towns.

For the last two years Cedarville has defeated Antioch on the Cedarville gridiron and Antioch will strive this year to break the spell and take the home game from the Reformed Presbyterians. Last Saturday Cedarville lost to Ashland 46 to 0, while on the previous afternoon Antioch took a 46 to 0 setback from Heidelberg.

In the opening game of the season for both teams at Yellow Springs, Antioch defeated Cedarville.

Trautwein, assistant football coach at Wittenberg will referee the game which will start at 2:30 o'clock.

CEDARVILLE HIGH GRIDDERS WIN FROM
BEAVER HIGH TEAM

Floundering over a field of mud and water, Cedarville High School football team managed to hand Beaver High the short end of a 33-0 score Monday afternoon. This is the first game this year for either school but both managed to exhibit good playing.

The Beaver team, under the leadership of Earle Collins, former Cedarville College star, was in fine shape, but was slightly outwitted by Cedarville's crowd. Cedarville's aggregation, under the efficient management of Jim Peters, its crack quarterback, has been practicing faithfully for several weeks and has rounded into exceptional form.

In the first quarter, Smith, Cedarville right end, took the Beavers off their feet by catching Little's 20 yard pass and going the remaining ten yards for the first score of the game. Little kicked goal.

Cedarville's second score came in the second quarter when Peters, rounded Beaver's left end for a touchdown. Little again kicked goal.

A line buck by Acton and two runs by Little, one for 45 yards, accounted for the remaining touchdowns. Smith's dropkick finished off one of the scores in the point-after-touchdown and brought the tally up to 33.

Beaver's uneven line was rushed considerably by Cedarville's hard hitting backfield, but the former continued to hold Cedarville from excessive gains by good tackling. Jacobs sustained an injured neck when he and Smith collided in an attempt to capture the ball.

Cedarville College plays Antioch Nov. 9 and the High School will probably follow Saturday, Nov. 10 with a game with either Jamestown or Caesar Creek on the C. C. Campus. The lineup:

WILMINGTON PLAYS
FINAL HOME GAME
WITH CARROLL U.

Wilmington College football team will play its annual home coming game this year with John Carroll University of Cleveland next Friday at Wilmington.

The game will be the last home meeting of the Quakers this season and they are expecting a large crowd. Carroll, former St. Ignace, defeated Dayton University 21 to 0 last Saturday and Wilmington will meet Dayton next week. Carroll held Carnegie Tech, winner over Pittsburg, to a two touchdown victory and lost to St. Xavier by a small score recently.

You Can Bank On These Offers!

The offers which line the columns of the A-B-C Classified Section are as safe as the valuables stored in a safety deposit box at your bank.

And like safety deposit boxes these offers are all numbered—for exactly the same reason—so that you may conveniently find the one you want.

By combining an alphabetical list of names with box numbers, a bank keeps a record of those who rent safety deposit boxes.

The numerical classification and alphabetical indexing of the A-B-C Classified Section enable you to keep a record of Opportunity in this same systematic way.

WOULD FACILITATE FLEET OPERATION

Washington, Nov. 7.—Legislation may be expected from the new congress to facilitate government operation of the American merchant marine, it was indicated at the white house. Chairman Farley told President Coolidge in a recent conference that when he returns from his present European tour he will recommend additional laws. It is assumed he will attempt to induce congress to legalize the scheme for incorporating a number of companies to take over and operate the ships. This plan went on the rocks recently when Attorney General Daugherty unexpectedly ruled it illegal. This plan is believed by Farley to offer a solution of the present differences to a large extent. In the meantime, it is believed certain congressmen will sponsor legislation of their own to help the situation.

XENIA HOMECOMING AND DEDICATION DAY NOVEMBER 16

Xenia Central High School football team will play its combined homecoming, dedication day and final game of the season at Cox Memorial Athletic Field Friday, November 16, with London High School. It is announced by athletic authorities.

Elaborate plans for a fitting program to celebrate the inauguration of the new athletic field will mark the contest with the Madison County gridders. It is expected by that time that the new ornamental entrance will be completed and a gala occasion will be made of the day.

Xenia High will play McClain High of Greenfield Friday, November 9 and after the home coming game with London will meet Washington C. H. High at Washington in the final game either November 23 or 24. Plans for the dedication of the new athletic field will be announced later.

Recent rainy weather has deterred workmen in the completion of the ornamental entrance. The pillars are being constructed of brick, topped by stone from the Milford pink quarries of the George Dodds and Sons Company, which have been donated to the school by that company.

The Dodds Company is charging the school only for the bronze lettering on the stones that will designate the field. On one of these stones will be a credit tablet to the Central High School classes that made the field possible by donating class money to the fund. On the other will be the lettering "Dedicated to the memory of Edwin B. Cox."

The late Mr. Cox was superintendent of the Xenia Public Schools for many years. High school classes conceived and carried out the plans for preserving his memory through the medium of a much-needed athletic field and P. W. Dodds, who purchased and developed the Dodds addition, donated six acres to the school to be used for the field.

BROWN AND GREENE

Chapter 7

Lee tried to look into the dark eyes of this strange woman and to read her feelings, but she kept her face turned away from him. He knew suddenly that she was fighting to hide the lonely bitterness of her life. A compelling sympathy vibrated between them—a sympathy which intuitively understood—a sympathy that seemed vital and tinglingly intimate. He wondered if she felt it too.

"I will look for you again very soon—if I may," he asked, and held his hand toward her, wondering if she would take it. The next instant he felt her firm fingers grasp his and grip them for a second.

"My name is Brown," he explained boyishly and with a question in his frank blue eyes which demanded an answer.

"And mine is Greene!" she laughed back and her dark eyes snapped with amusement. "Brown and Greene, that's funny," she said. "Did you ever notice what friendly sympathy there is between the browns and greens of the forest?"

He knew that she, too, had felt that strange vibration of sympathy between them of which he had been so conscious. The thought pleased him. Then he looked down at her firm white hands and his arms fell limp against his sides. Her small vital strength was so forceful and self-sufficient. It rebuffed him.

"I shall be glad to have you intrude again if you want to," she said softly. "I'll promise not to swarm, too," she added, chiding him roguishly.

"And you'll forgive me for being so churlish?" he interrogated anxiously.

"Of course," she answered, looking up with a smile into his blue eyes. "Don't think about anything like that. Let's just be friendly without asking questions. Can't we just take each other for granted—like the browns and greens of the forest?" And she met his gaze with one long sweeping look of understanding. "Good-bye," she said simply, and in the next instant she had gone from him, disappearing along the wooded trail.

Lee stood still and looked after her. And all the trees and pine needles and grasses seemed one exquisite blending of brown and green. A warm peacefulness, like the most low whispering of a drowsy song bird, hovered deliciously over his senses. For a long time he stood as in a trance, lest he lose the lingering touch of her vivid personality.

After what seemed like a long sweet dream, he roused suddenly. His thoughts came jumping back into reality. Though even yet he felt loathe to leave the spot. He pulled out a

A Plum Center 2-Reel Comedy, featuring Dan Mason.

Do we eat to live or live to eat?

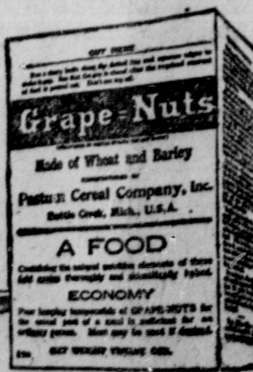

THOSE who live to eat usually have a short life, and not always a merry one.

Those who eat to live know that it is not how much they eat, but rather the food they properly digest that makes for health and long life.

The crisp, delicious wheat-and-barley food, Grape-Nuts, is not only good to eat, but it digests easily, and supplies life essential vitamin and mineral elements from the grain, without which health and strength cannot be maintained.

Grape-Nuts with milk or cream is completely nourishing—a delightful, well-balanced food for those who eat to live long and happily.

cigarette and lit it, and threw himself down on a soft stretch of moss and pine needles.

The fascinating personality of Cynthia Elliott, whom his hurt feelings had caused him to run away from; and this strange "Greene" elfin person who had come into his life so unexpectedly, seemed to be plunged all suddenly and unaccountably into deadly combat in his warring thoughts. He had a queer feeling that he must keep them away from each other, even in his own brain. In spite of the fact that the slender khaki-clad form had touched his life so casually, he knew instinctively that its influence upon him was stronger than an ordinary casual contact.

He thought "If only Cynthia would not hurt me so," and the next minute—"If that Elfish Greene Thing were not quite so superbly unapproachable."

Then he blew a long puff of cigarette smoke into the air; and as he watched it rise quickly and float away, he wondered why Fate had kept messing up things so for him. Even the peace of the forest had been strangely altered now. He tried to be resentful over this Greene girl's encroachment; but no matter how hard he tried to feel cross with her, he found he just couldn't. She had inspired his admiration and aroused his curiosity in one brief meeting.
